THE HARRAH MURDER CASE.

Trial in Progress—Bailiffs Selected—Other Matters.

Judge Hughes convened court this morning at the usual hour, with a large number of witnesses in criminal cases in attendance.

THE BAILIFF QUESTION. Last evening in open court Attorney Johns for Sheriff Massey notified Judge Hughes of the action of the board of supervisors in reference to the salary and allowance for the sheriff, and further that the sheriff had discharged his deputy and also the turnkey at the jail. The court was then asked to appoint a sufficient number of court bailiffs to aid the sheriff in serving the processes of the court. A list of 20 names was submitted to him. He reserved his decision until this morning when the following court order was handed to the clerk:

Ordered by the court that hereafter in this county no person shall be authorized to act as bailiff of the circuit court, or be entitled to receive pay as such, except upon the appointment of the court, and that no more than three bailiffs shall be appointed during the sessions of the court, except in an emergency, when the court will appoint a sufficient number of additional bailiffs to meet the particular emergency, and except that during the sessions of the grand jury three additional bailiffs shall be appointed, one to attend that jury and three to serve its processes.

For the present term the following persons are hereby appointed bailiffs: Samuel Wetzel, J. W. Carter and Z. W. Harris.

THE REGULAR JURY. The following have been selected to serve as members of the petit jury: Nathan Reed, O. T. Logan, Jacob Diller, H. S. Goodpasture, J. W. Peter, James A. Fruit, Robert Bivans, L. A. Willoughby, John Scott, George Melhorn, George Neibinger, W. H. Grindol, John Underwood, J. B. Barnwell, Charles Lewis, Adam F. Gephart, Leo Ebert, James Montgomery, John M. Martin, S. E. Smith, Louis Koehler, Charles Nevins, Thomas Binns and Hugh Logan.

THE HARRAH MURDER TRIAL. Shortly after 10 o'clock the clerk was directed to call a jury in the case of The People vs. Charles Harrah, charged with the murder of Alonzo Hill, son of Mrs. Robert Hill, at Macon, this county, on the evening of December 24, 1886. Hill and his brother became involved in a quarrel with Harrah and his friend, young Canalet, the difficulty growing out of a joking rally. In the fight Alonzo was severely cut with a knife and received a mortal stab in the neck. He died soon afterward, and Harrah has since been in custody. A jury will be selected this afternoon. In the prosecution Mr. Vail is assisted by I. R. Mills. The counsel for the prisoner are I. A. Buckingham and J. M. Beady.

The Queen Landau. Decatur has another elegant five-glass Berlin Landau, owned by Peter Perli, the undertaker, and now he has a pair of these princely carriages just alike. The landau was built to order by Wayne & Anderson at the Keystone Carriage Works. The elegant equipage was brought out this morning and was driven through the streets, while the proud owner sat inside wearing a bright button-hole bouquet.

This fine carriage cost $1200, and was built under the personal direction of Mr. Wayne, whose good taste is always displayed with artistic effect in every rig turned out at the Keystone works. The Queen is a model of beauty and mechanical skill, and cannot fail to win admiration from all beholders. It will be in general demand for weddings, parties, and calling purposes. Mr. Perli has gentle spurs of black and cream white horses for his carriages and careful drivers.

Columbia Hughes, of Mattoon, the bright little daughter of Judge Hughes, is in the city accompanied by her friend, Miss Tat Rudy.

C. P. Gillett, of Jacksonville, is in the city to attend the Powers-Rogers wedding this evening. His sisters, Misses Alma and Jennie, arrived to-day.

Harry Everts, the little giant orator and prizefighter, for the Little Brothers' show, is among us to-day, abiding sun-ahs and exchanging cheerful words with members of the Decatur press.

Mrs. J. R. Race and Miss Ella Race are at Racine, Wis., to be present at the graduating exercises of Racine College.

For the first time only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Race, will graduate this commencement week.

The Alpha. The Alpha Literary Circle was entertained Friday last by Mrs. E. P. Vail, the retiring president. At the business meeting of the society the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. T. J. Abel. Vice-president—Mrs. J. N. Baker. Secretary—Miss Laura Wikoff. Treasurer—Mrs. G. W. Wright.

After a program of unusual interest, consisting of essays, music and poems, the following address and original poems was delivered by Mrs. J. H. Lewis, which is published by the request of the members of the Alpha Circle:

Again we've assembled at the close of the year, To gather our slaves, for each others cheer. I greet you with memories, all laden with joy, For each year's pleasure—without any alloy.

With the rose of last June we laid by our work of the year that had passed so happily, then through all the heat of two summer months we were at our pleasure—again and again.

When the Autumn's rich fruitage began to glow we gathered again, with eager intent, to meet the year's pleasure—without any alloy.

In the same lines of thought—on the past year spent. From "Hawthorne" we turned, after months of "Longfellow," who is our pride and our joy. His words we read, and his lines so high. No power on earth his charm can destroy.

Then with "Whittier" next, so quiet, yet strong for the right and whose words are so true. We read and we thought, and we thought and we thought, in the same lines of thought—on the past year spent.

Then "Longfellow" we turned, after months of "Longfellow," who is our pride and our joy. His words we read, and his lines so high. No power on earth his charm can destroy.

THE CITY'S AFFAIRS.

Extension of the Street Car Track Contracts Let—Estimates.

At the last regular June meeting of the council last night, Mayor Kanan and all the aldermen were in attendance. The minutes of previous meetings were read and approved.

MORE STREET RAILWAY. By general permission, Senator Johns, attorney for the Citizens' Street Car Company, made verbal application for permission to extend their track on North Water street from North street to the Wabash railway, it being the desire to extend the track while the brick paving is in progress—the company agreeing to pay for paving the centre of the street, seven feet wide.

Ald. Harwood offered a motion that the committee be instructed to present an ordinance granting the Citizens' company the right to extend the track from North street to Harkimer and on west half of Water to Center street.

Ald. Metz offered an amendment that the right of way be given no further north than the Wabash railway. Seconded by Muzzey, whose objection was that Water street had not been ordered paved north of the Wabash. The Metz amendment was lost.

The Harwood resolution was adopted. Ald. Moffit moved that Water street, from North street to Wabash road, be widened seven feet, 5 feet on west side and 2 feet on east side, the paved street to be 44 feet wide, instead of 37 feet wide. The motion was adopted.

Property owners on east side North Clayton street asked that brick sidewalks ordered put down by ordinance be not laid. Referred to committee with power to act.

V. H. Parke asked permission to place scales in front of the Miller rag house property on N. Main street. Granted.

Property owners asked that North Main street, from Prairie to Williams be widened six feet on each side. Referred to public improvement committee.

The committee reported favorably on the proposition to lay 12-inch water pipe on East Main to Broadway, to cost $2,397.22. Adopted, and committee ordered to purchase the pipe.

SEWER. By Ferguson: Resolved That the city attorney be instructed to draw an ordinance for a sewer from the Wabash road north to the city limits. Adopted. The estimated cost is $14,321.00.

ESTIMATES. For paving Wood street, from east side of Broadway east to Webster, 1919 square yards, total cost, $3,282.37; per square yard, $1.69; cost to city, $494.65.

For paving East Main, from Water to Broadway, 5,819 square yards, total cost, $9,361.25; per square yard, $1.61; cost to city, $2,784.69.

For paving Webster street, from Wood south to city limits, 12,282 square yards, total cost, $19,717.68; per square yard, $1.61; cost to city, $2,861.15.

For paving Williams street, from North Main to North Franklin, 3,161 square yards, total cost, $5,078.23; per square yard, $1.79; cost to city, $868.67.

For paving Broadway, from East Main south to Wood, 10,000 square yards, total cost, $2,898; per square yard, $1.61; cost to city, $1,561.68.

The reported estimates of Commissioners J. S. Carter, J. G. Cloyd and O. B. Gorin were adopted and the city clerk was instructed to advertise for bids.

The official bonds of Sup't Alexander and Officers Hardy, Batts, Helmick and Midkiff, also that of Sullivan Burgess, city engineer, was adopted.

GAS. An ordinance was introduced by Ald. Harwood amending the gas ordinance of March 23, 1887, and fixing the price of consumption as follows: On less than 10,000 feet, $2; on 10,000 and less than 15,000 feet, $1.90; on 15,000 and less than 20,000 feet, $1.80; on 20,000 and less than 25,000 feet, $1.70; on 25,000 and less than 30,000 feet, $1.60; on 30,000 and less than 35,000 feet, $1.50; on 35,000 and less than 40,000 feet, $1.40; on 40,000 and less than 45,000 feet, $1.30; on 45,000 and less than 50,000 feet, $1.20; on 50,000 and less than 55,000 feet, $1.10; on 55,000 and less than 60,000 feet, $1.00; on 60,000 and less than 65,000 feet, $0.90; on 65,000 and less than 70,000 feet, $0.80; on 70,000 and less than 75,000 feet, $0.70; on 75,000 and less than 80,000 feet, $0.60; on 80,000 and less than 85,000 feet, $0.50; on 85,000 and less than 90,000 feet, $0.40; on 90,000 and less than 95,000 feet, $0.30; on 95,000 and less than 100,000 feet, $0.20; on 100,000 and less than 105,000 feet, $0.10; on 105,000 and less than 110,000 feet, $0.05; on 110,000 and less than 115,000 feet, $0.02; on 115,000 and less than 120,000 feet, $0.01; on 120,000 and less than 125,000 feet, $0.005; on 125,000 and less than 130,000 feet, $0.002; on 130,000 and less than 135,000 feet, $0.001; on 135,000 and less than 140,000 feet, $0.0005; on 140,000 and less than 145,000 feet, $0.0002; on 145,000 and
